APPOMATTOX GARDEN CLUB CELEBRATES 40th ANNIVERSARY

Monday evening, August 30th, The Appomattox Garden Club celebrated its Fortieth Anniversary with a Garden Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nash. The lawn was decorated with lighted hurricane lamps and candles. Mrs. Martin L. Webb and Mrs. Charles R. Thomas presided at the refreshement table, serving punch and a beautifully decorated cake inscribed, "Happy Birthday", Appomattox Garden Club, 1935-1976.

Mrs. Reid Shields, President of the Club, welcomed membes and guests. She recognized Mrs. Mildred Alvis as the only Charter Member present with a corsage of summer flowers.

Eleven members of the Club who had served as President in the past years were recognized by Mrs. Shields and each gave a few remarks about their year of service and what the Garden Club had meant to them. Those present at the celebration and their years of service as Past President of the Club were as follows: Mrs. George F. Abbitt, Jr., 1939; Mrs. H. A. Gurney of Richmond, 1943; Mrs. Ivey Holland, 1946; Mrs. C. D. Staples of Atlanta, Georgia, 1947-48; Mrs. F. F. Carr of Richmond, 1950-51; Mrs. R. W. Jamerson, 1952-54; Mrs. Helen B. Shouse of Lynchburg, 1960-62; Mrs. Howlette B. Martin, 1962-64; Mrs. W. E. Ferrell, 1964-67; Mrs. William W. Burke, 1967-69; and Mrs. A. T. Poole, Jr., 1971-73.

Mrs. Raymond Jamerson gave a brief history of the Garden Club from the time it was organized on January 24, 1935. Sixteen ladies met in the Appomattox High School Library for the purpose of organizing a Garden Club. The By-Laws and Constitution were drawn and the ladies went to work increasing its membership. The first regular meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pitzer Gills. By 1936 there were 41 members enrolled. The Appomattox Garden Club was enrolled with the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs in 1937.

The Appomattox Garden Club was the first civic organization in the Town of Appomattox and it was very active in all phases of civic work; staging "Clean Up Campaigns, parades, beauty contests, working with the Town Council in zoning laws, and sponsoring recreational programs. Much effort was put into the landscaping and planting of trees and shrubs at the Appomattox County Library and high school grounds. Many areas of the County of Appomattox have been landscaped and trees and shrubs planted by the Garden Club.

During its forty years of activity, accredited Flower Shows have been staged ever year or two. Homes have been opened to the public during Garden Club Week and for "Christmas Holiday House".

Through the years, the Club has won State and District Awards in beautification programs, flower arranging and horticulture exhibits. members in the Club have held District and State offices and at the present time, Mrs. F. F. Carr, a former member and officer of the Appomattox Garden Club, is the incoming President of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs. Mrs. C. T. Moses, Jr., a member and past president of the Club, is now President of the South Central District of Garden Clubs.

The Appomattox Garden Club can be proud of its Forty Years of Activity in this Community, working towards a better place to live, promoting the interest and love of "Growing Flowers", the knowledge of "Good Landscaping" and the "Art of Flower Arranging".

How To Honor & Display The Flag

During this, our Bicentennial year, we will want to have our United States flags displayed even more than ever.

To supply a guide for the proper use and display of the flag of the United States, a code was drawn us at a National Flag Conference held in Washington, D. C. June 14-15, 1923. This code was revised by the Second National Flag Conference, May 5, 1924. In June of 1942 Congress adopted a resolution(amended December 1942) whichmade the flag code a law. Copies of the code are available in leaflet form from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

The official flag code adopted by Congress in 1942 may be summarized as follows:

1. In a group of state and local flags: The United States flag should be in the center, and at the highest point of the group.

2. With another flag, with crossed staffs: The flag of the United States should be on its own right, its staff in front.

3. Horizontally on a wall: The Union, or blue field, of the flag should be on top, to the observer's left and to the flag's own right.

4. Vertically from the window or a wall: The Union, or blue field, of the flag should be on top, to the observer's left and to the flag's own right.

5. In an auditorium or meeting place: The United States flag should occupy the position of honor. When displayed from a staff on a speaker's platform, the flag should be placed at the speaker's right. Any other flag on the platform should be placed at the speaker's left as he faces the audience.

When displayed elsewhere than on a platform it shall be placed at the right of the audience as they face the speaker. When used on the speaker's platform the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker.

6. From a staff: Displayed from a staff projecting from window or wall, the Union or blue field, should go to the peak of the staff, except when at half-mast.

7. In line with flags of other nations: The United States flag goes to its own right and is hoisted before other flags. Flags should be of equal size and staffs of equal height.

8. When carried in a procession with other flags: The flag of the United States should be on the marching right, or when there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

10. Display in a classroom: While the Flag Code does not specifically provide for display of the flag in the classroom appropriate. Sections of the Code should be applied. It is recommended that the flag be displayed at the front of the classroom occupying a position of honor.

11. With other flags on a halyard: When flags of states, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak.

12. When taken down: The flag should be carefully folded. The Flag Code lists a number of precautions, among which are the following:

1. Do not permit disrespect to be shown to the flag.

2. Do not use the flag as a portion of a costume.

3. Never use the flag as a drapery of any sort.

4. Take every precaution to prevent the flag from becoming soiled. It should not be allowed to touch the ground or floor, nor to brush against objects.

5. When the flag is in such a conditon, through wear or damage, that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, it should be destroyed in a dignified way.

SOME RULES FOR GOOD MENTAL HEALTH

According to Woodrow W. Hunter, a research associate, University of Michigan people who are aging successfully do the following:

They Face Reality. They learn to accept the facts of life and to make the best of them. They are not afraid to compromise when necessary.

They Take Responsibility. They don't blame others for their problems. They accept help when it is needed. They make a major effort to solve their own problems.

They Are Interested in Other People. They do things with and for other people. They make the effort to acquire new friends. They like their old friends, but they also keep in touch with younger people.

They Have Strong and Varied Interests. Usually the well adjusted older person likes to do many kinds of activities. Sharing these activities with other people is enjoyed and individuals feel useful.

They Are Interested in New Things as Well as Old. Most of them agree that the world is changing faster than they can comprehend, but they still try to keep up with things.

They Look Forward to The Future. They live in the present and the future instead of the past. Some of the things which they can reasonably expect to accomplish are projected in the future.

They Watch Their Health. To the well adjusted older person, good health is both important and worth working for. They usually do not dwell on their aches and pains.

They Maintain A Neat Appearance. They take pride in their appearance and they usually have a strong interest in maintainig the place in which they live in good order.

They Know How To Relax. Older people who are aging successfully know how to relax and not to take life too seriously.

They Adapt To Changing Circumstances. One of the strongest assets of older people is their ability to change their ideas and to change their ways of doing things when the situation requires it.
